

Peoria Symphony Chamber Players – New Concert Series Beginning 2011

The Peoria Symphony Chamber Players is a new initiative, conceived and programmed by Music Director George Stelluto to increase the PSO's cultural impact in the region with innovative programming. "The inspiration for the chamber players came from two sources: our chamber orchestra performances last year during the regular season and the fantastic chamber music performances of our Illinois New Music Festival last May," Stelluto said. "Our excellent PSO musicians, performing in ensembles of four to 20 players, were exciting and inspirational. I knew immediately that this should be a regular component to our PSO activities." Join us for these exciting concerts!
